BE IT REMEMBERED:

On this day appeared, in open Court, the Defendant James Patrick Fullen, and his counsel, David P. Walker and also the State through the Criminal District Attorney, whereupon the Court caused the said defendant to be arraigned herein as provided by law, to wit:

I.

The Defendant was made fully aware of his right to a trial by a jury, and having so been made aware, waived his right to a jury both in the trial of his case and the assessment of his punishment.

II.

The name of the said Defendant, as set forth in the Information herein, was then distinctly called and thereupon the Information was read to the said defendant, and the said Defendant was asked whether he was guilty or not as therein charged and the said Defendant pleaded guilty in open Court.

It plainly being determined by the Court, that the said Defendant is mentally competent, that the defendant is uninfluenced in making said plea by any consideration of fear, or by any persuasion or delusive hope of pardon, the said plea of guilty IS BY THE Court received and here now entered of record upon the minutes of the Court, as the plea herein of the said defendant.
